

Late Antique-Visigothic Gallia and Hispania: A Bibliography, 2016-2018

by

Alberto Ferreiro

Call for Participation

Abstract

For three decades, Alberto Ferreiro's renowned bibliography of the Visigoths has been a leading source for scholars, students and all those interested in the history of the late antique and early medieval Iberian Peninsula and the Western Mediterranean. In collaboration with Networks and Neighbours, Professor Ferreiro is now bridging this seminal work in Visigothic Studies into the digital, open-access and non-profit world. This entirely new bibliography (to be found at www.networksandneighbours.org), which begins with the year 2016, is freely accessible and provided with up-to-date links to sources, including to full-texts, when available. This online bibliography is intended to be a continuation of the previous ones that Professor Ferreiro published with Brill. His work on that front with Brill has ended, but he wishes to express his support that their staff provided over the years, especially to Julian Deahl, who enthusiastically embraced the series in the first place. In the transition from Brill to N&N, the structure of the bibliography has undergone some modifications, but, in the main, there are not significant changes to the format. Bibliographies are never fully complete for the timeframe that they represent. It is impossible to gather everything, for various reasons. That is why, in this volume, there will be publications from before 2016, works that escaped previous attention.

The bibliography is meant to be interactive and we encourage readers to send suggestions for, information on, and links to additional entries for the Bibliography. We especially ask the support of scholars working in Visigothic studies to bring to our attention any new work of theirs and of colleagues.

Please send details on any pertinent material published between 2016 and 2018 (nothing in press) directly to Professor Ferreiro at beto@spu.edu.

General enquiries may be directed to the N&N editors at: networksandneighbours@gmail.com.

